Gunman Doesn't Speak The Language

BY SAM HENDERSON

A language barrier proved insurmountable for a would-be stick-up man last weekend.

Sayomi Mayeda, 45, wife of the owner of Country Club Cleaners, 1284 E. Yorba Linda Blvd., told police through her interpreter husband that a young man entered the store about 3:15 p.m. Saturday and pulled out what appeared to be a long-barreled revolver.

Talking quickly, the man said a lot of things Mrs. Mayeda couldn't understand. In desperation, presumably, he waved his pistol at the cash register. Mrs. Mayeda called for her husband Min, who was in the back of the shop with their manager, J.B. Wheatley.

Mayeda and Wheatley came up just in time to see the frustrated robber, still holding his weapon, leave.

The suspect was described as male, white, 27 to 30 years old, 5 feet 10 inches tall and 140 pounds in weight, dark-haired with a mustache.

Summer School Announced

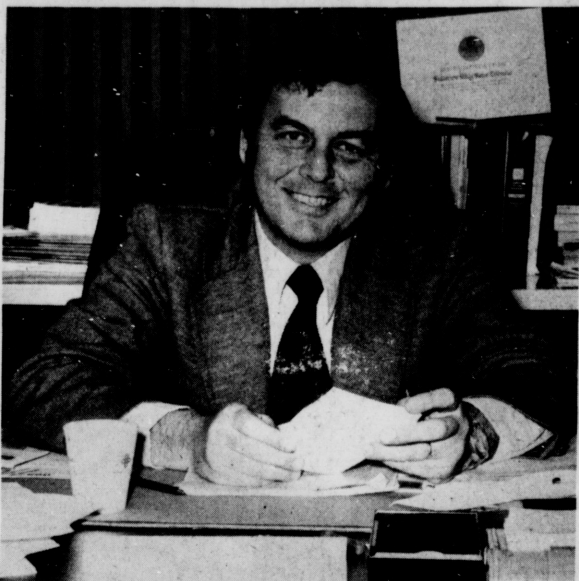

A five-week summer school, June 23 to July 25 has been announced by the Yorba Linda School District. Students will attend from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

All four district schools will participate on an alternative open enrollment basis.

Richard Nixon School will stress academic areas, Rose Drive and Mabel Paine will stress high-interest topics and the Junior High will be departmental.

A kindergarten will be offered for 5 year olds. For further information, all the district office.

No transportation will be provided.

JOHN L. HUFFERD is heading up the "School Revenue Limit Election" May 27. Hufferd is a Yorba Linda resident who teaches at Buena Park High and is president of the Fullerton Secondary Teachers Organization.

Hufferd Heads SOS Campaign Committee

Yorba Linda school district parents and teachers gathered Saturday to form the Support Our Schools Citizens Committee which will rally support for an increase in the district's per pupil expenditure limit.

Chairman of the committee is John Hufferd, a Buena Park high school teacher and Yorba Linda resident who called the group "a broadly based citizens committee with support from a lot of areas".

Represented on the committee are the school district, the board of trustees, the parent teachers association and the Yorba Linda little league.

Bill O'Dyke, of Yorba Linda chamber of commerce will supervise the publicity for the group, Arline Kennedy will coordinate all precinct work and John and Pat Dawson are in charge of finances.

Hufferd listed three goals of the committee. He hopes "to get broad community support, to publicize the need for the revenue increase and to motivate people to vote in favor of the measure," he said.

If the measure passes on May 27, it will increase the tax rate by 87 cents per 100 dollars of assessed valuation, and give the school district $139 more per pupil each year.

Hufferd emphasized the purpose of the revenue limit increase was not to raise teachers' salaries, "But I do believe you get what you pay for with teachers," he said.

"I'm optimistic because I think people in Yorba Linda want good schools for their kids, and when enough information has been presented about the need for an increased level of support, the measure will pass," said Hufferd.

The committee is financed solely through contributions. Hufferd said the group has "received some contributions, but not too much."

Persons interested in walking precincts for the committee may attend a work session at 9:30 a.m. Saturday May 10 at Yorba Linda Junior high school. The committee hopes for 120 volunteers.

$2.1 Million Budget Eyed; No Property Tax---Yet

The Yorba Linda City Council took its first look at a proposed $2.1 million budget, on Monday night. According to city administrator Art Simonian, the budget is "financially balanced without the use of an ad valorem property tax." The budget also takes into account an unprecedented increase in general funds of approximately 19 per cent. The revenue increase is partially attributed to proposed establishment of an oil well tax, and a substantial increase in sales tax receipts.

Simonian said that the city anticipates revenues totaling $2,034,957. Approximately $804,557 of this is classified as restricted funds which can only be used for specific purposes established by either Federal, State or local statutes. Examples of restricted funds are Gas Tax, Master Plan of Drainage, Park In-Lieu and Revenue Sharing Funds.

General funds, estimated to total $1,229,400, may be used for any general municipal purpose.

"This represents the eighth consecutive year since the incorporation of Yorba Linda that the City has operated without a property tax," Simonian told the council. But it may also be the last. Simonian predicts a property tax for 1976-1977 fiscal year.

"Given the policy that the city shall operate without the use of a property tax for 1975-1976, we believe this budget to represent the highest level of municipal service affordable by Yorba Linda at this time," he stated.

City funds are earmarked in six different categories, including general government, public safety, public works, parks and recreation, restricted funds and personnel.

The general government category includes non-departmental and public building expenses. According to Simonian, rising costs of municipal liability insurance account for increases in this area.

In the category of public safety, the city of Brea if proposing a contract for police services amounting to $390,000. Last year's contract amount with Brea amounted to $347,652. Brea cites a combination of salary and fringe benefit increases, along with increased costs of fuel and equipment as reasons for the hike. The projected level of service remains unchanged with two patrol cars per 24 hours per day, traffic enforcement at 20 hours per week and investigative services as needed.

"While Yorba Linda's population has significantly increased over the past three years, the city's level of law enforcement has not," Simonian stated, "serious consideration should be given to increasing the level of service."

The city marked up savings in the area of public works for 1975-1976. According to Simonian, establishment of its own in-house public works and engineering departments has resulted in accomplishment of major work items as well as realization of financial savings. The proposed public works budget is $127,397--$22,053 less than 1974-1975 and $88,156 less than 1973-1974.

The city recreation budget is set at $33,414, and represents a continuation of the same level of service as in previous years. In terms of parks, funds have been appropriated to purchase both the Valley View site and the Palm Avenue site.

In the restricted fund area, the city will have $111,439 in gas tax funds for street improvement projects. Other funds will be lumped into a capital improvement fund, which contains $553,000 for park acquisition.

The city administrator again brought up the subject of a property tax at the end of his discussion. "During recent months there has been a great deal of discussion relative to when Yorba Linda will need a property tax. Our calculations indicate that fiscal year 1976-1977 appears to be when such a tax will be recommended," he noted.

"Yorba Linda is no longer a small community and its further growth is all too apparent. As growth occurs, so grows the demand and need for services, ultimately resulting in the necessity to find revenues to pay the way."

Ronald Reagan

Former Governor Is Star Columnist

Ronald Reagan, former movie-star, two-term governor of the nation's most populous state, and a leading spokesman for the nation's conservative thinkers, now has a new career. The politician-turned newspaper columnist will be writing a weekly column for the Yorba Linda Star, beginning with this issue.

Reagan made his first bid for public office in 1966, when he was elected California's 33rd governor by a margin of nearly one million votes. Four years later he was reelected.

A past contender for the U.S. presidency, he is regarded as a potential presidential candidate in 1976.

The Reagan column will deal with national and international events as seen from the conservative viewpoint. He covers everything from the energy crisis to Vietnam and Cambodia; from Ralph Nader to Fidel Castro.

His column is distributed nationally. The "Reagan Column" appears on page two of The Star.

Former Brea Councilman Fined

Former Brea Councilman, Donald V. Symmes, who resigned his position after a jury found him guilty of shoplifting, has been assessed a fine of $500 with an additional $125 in penalties by Judge Phillip McGraw as sentence in the case.

The fine was paid as choice over a 10-day jail sentence and after a 30-day jail sentence was suspended. Symmes' attorney, Michael R.

McDonnell said that the former councilman has not been placed on probation.

The former Brea Councilman, who is a teacher at Troy High School, was found guilty in a second trial, resulting from charges that he had taken a woman's coat from the J.C. Penney Company in Fullerton, without paying for it, on December 23 last year.

Symmes declared it was forgetfulness and said that if he were found guilty he would resign both his council seat and his teaching job. A first trial resulted in a hung jury.

The Fullerton Union High School District has stated that it has received no indication that Symmes intends to leave his teaching post.

PUSD Employees Seek Pay Hike

A four and one half per cent target figure for a combination of increased salaries and other compensations for employees of the Placentia Unified School District was forwarded Saturday by the PUSD Board of Trustees as the group instructed staff to try to find still more.

The action was taken during a special Saturday budget session at which staff was instructed to continue combing the more than 200-page $20 million budget "to attempt to achieve a five per cent figure for this purpose."

Classified employees of the district, inaugurating their negotiations for the year, have sought the five per cent boost. Certificated personnel declined to name a figure but have expressed their desire for more money.

"The board and administrative staff have been very diligent in the review of the budget for the year," Dr. William Yates, PUSD board president stated this week, "There have been many significant reductions in many areas of the budget."

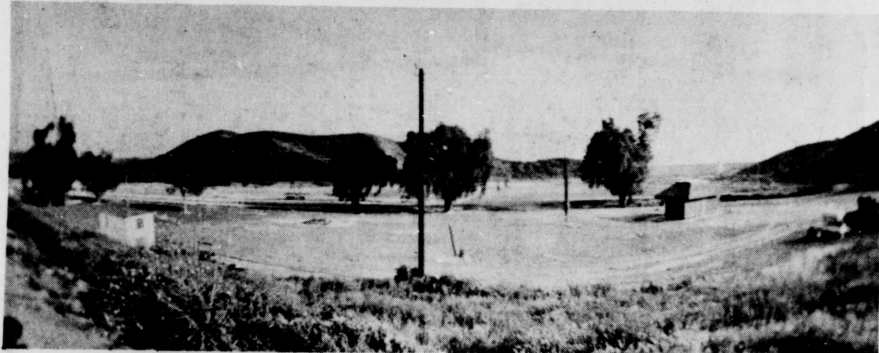

"We've also had many excellent suggestions from employee groups and those suggested curtailments have been taken into account in reductions in the budget.

"The result of this effort has manifested itself in actions taken on Saturday. Our board fully intends to negotiate in good faith with employees, realizing simultaneously the cost of living increases that they are experiencing and the tax burden that is on the patrons of our district."

"We have established our salary increase objectives with the maintenance of the current tax rate

AN AUGUST OPENING date is projected for the Carbon Canyon Regional Park, just outside of Yorba Linda. The new open space facility will include a three acre lake for fishing, eight tennis courts, a model airplane area, numerous picnic ramadas and 60 acres of open space which will include a redwood grove. The park is actually constructed in the dam flood basin. The land was formerly considered unusable, but a recent study by the Army Corps of Engineers determined that the area would be suitable for recreational purposes. The Corps of Engineers designed and built the regional facility--and leased it to Orange County Department of Harbors, Beaches and Parks which will operate it.

Ronald Reagan Column

By RONALD REAGAN
Copley News Service

Big government breeds bigger government--especially in times of crisis. That has become a truism. And, the best recent example of this is the so-called energy crisis with which the United States has been beset for the last two years.

Efforts to cope with the "crisis" have bred new agencies at both the state and federal levels. Unfortunately, new agencies mean more than just adding bureaucrats and additional budgets to the cost of government. They also mean new rules, regulations and controls, all part of the self-justification process for continuation of the agencies.

Sadly, long experience shows that these seldom meet expectations and the good they do is not often worth the cost, either in dollars or in loss of freedom.

A few months ago the influential and wealthy Ford Foundation issued the results of a three-year, $4 million study called "A Time To Choose America's Energy Future". It was hailed by various experts, government officials and members of Congress for pointing the way toward a logical, long-range energy policy for the United States.

But does it really? A closer look and a careful analysis produced by a small, new foundation, the Institute for Contemporary Studies, in San Francisco, takes sharp issue with the Ford study.

Trenchantly titled "No Time To Confuse", the analysis is the work of 10 highly respected economists and political scientists. What is concluded is that the Ford study merely offers us more of the same kind of "solutions" that big government advocates have been handing us all along: controls over production, distribution and prices; mandatory guidelines; and proposals that aim, not at finding and developing enough energy sources to allow America to be independent and to continue to grow and expand, but rather at limiting energy consumption and controlling how each one of us uses it.

In fact, "No Time To Confuse" finds that the authors of "A Time To Choose" are more interested in presenting their own views of how they think the world should be than they are in developing an energy policy that will function well within the framework of our free enterprise system. Prof. M. Bruce Johnson, in his segment of "No Time To Confuse", charges bluntly that the Ford study is no more than a "vehicle for the authors' views on income redistribution and environmental action."

"This kind of ideology is used to justify the existence of a planned society which works (if it works at all) only in the context of a police state. Much of the ordinary workaday life would have to be made illegal to force society to make fuel conservation the highest priority. We could make 'energy conservation a matter of the highest national priority' as the report urges Congress to do, but the kind of life for which we conserved it would not be very attractive."

Like his fellow authors of "No Time To Confuse", Riker is a master of understatement. What the authors of the Ford study seem to be looking toward is a society where everything that isn't prohibited is compulsory.

Isn't it time that Americans began to demand that their government leaders seek solutions that liberate us rather than control us? Apparently, the Ford Foundation "experts" don't think so.

YL Rotary Hears Local School Needs

Yorba Linda Country Club was the scene last Friday, May 2, of an illustrated address by James W. Bremer, President of the Yorba Linda School Board, covering the needs of local grammar and junior high schools, caused largely by inflationary moves of the past few years. "Inflation, plus legislation, forced our Yorba Linda schools to stretch the education dollar to a point where it wiped out our reserves. We've had no voted financial increase in 8 years," he said.

Giving further valuable points, Bremer said, "No longer do schools obtain more funds when property values go up! State law now limits the districts to a set amount of money to be collected from property taxes! Except for 6% annual inflationary factor, this revenue limit can only be increased by a vote of the people. Yorba Linda schools ask for the limit to be increased by $139 per pupil: that is, from $894 to $1,033--to permit the highest possible quality basic "3-R" education which is so vital to the present and future economy of our City. We are advocating a school program without frills: a community investment."

The issue goes before Yorba Linda's electorate Tuesday, May 27. Title of the important subject is "Increase of Revenue Limit Election". A "Support Our Schools Committee" has been formed, with John L. Hufferd as General Chairman, William K. OpDyke as Publicity Chairman; John and Pat Dawson as Finance Chairpersons; and Arline Kennedy, Precinct Chairperson. A 4-page brochure outlining all the key points of this issue has been produced. Copies will soon be made available to all of our local schools. "The public is urged to obtain copies of this outline as soon as possible...study it with care, and make a date with the polls on May 27 to express views on such a vital program" Hufferd urged.

Kindergarten Registration On May 21

Kindergarten registration will be held at all Yorba Linda Elementary Schools on Wednesday, May 21. Hours for registration are from 9 to 11 a.m. and 1:30 to 4 p.m.

To be eligible for enrollment in kindergarten, a child must be 5 years old on or before December 2, 1975; must have a birth certificate or other legal documentation of age to present at registration time; and must provide proof of immunization for measles, polio, tetanus, diphtheria and whooping cough.

PUSD Employees Pay Hike

as a simultaneous goal. Our whole strategy in this time of economic crisis in our nation, is honesty, straight forwardness and telling it like it is.

"We believe this is the only way to maintain good employee relations and to maintain the high morals required for our classroom teachers."

"The board has directed its representative John Tynes, to continue to explore the proposals of the employee groups," Dr. Yates concluded.

In addition, Saturday, the board put approximately $236,000 into the budget for board and superintendent priorities, including money to expand successful pilot projects, reinstatement of the position of director of program evaluation and research for 11 months, placement of assistant principals on a 12-month contract for 1975-76 (11 months had been discussed), purchase and scoring of math and reading achievement tests, aides for Valencia High Schools math lab and SEA program, funds to bring some management support salaries to the median and capital outlay and site improvement.

"As our income figures become more complete, we are able to get a clearer picture of what we can do," explained Superintendent of Schools John O. Tynes. Increases in this year's Average Daily Attendance account for the largest increase in income. "We're still going to have to cut corners, because we still have the lowest base revenue of any unified district in the county."

EL RODEO QUEEN---pretty Bonnie Burkhardt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Burkhardt of Yorba Linda was chosen out of four finalists to reign as El Rodeo Riding Club's Queen for 1975. Above, El Rodeo president, Bob Kelly, presents trophy and roses to the new Queen, following the club's annual All-Silver Horse Show on Saturday and Sunday in Carbon Canyon. Girls were judged on appearance, poise, personality and horsemanship. Last year's Queen was Miss Harriet Kittredge, also of Yorba Linda.

Police Beat

Friday, May 2

Sweet-toothed burglars broke into a trailer at the Yorba Linda Little League field, Valley View and Yorba Linda Blvd., and made off with four cases of candy worth $24. The intrusion apparently occurred between 4:30 p.m. Thursday and 4:30 p.m. Friday.

The trailer is used to store goodies for sale at Little League games.

Thursday, May 1

Sometime between 8 p.m. Wednesday and 7:15 p.m. Thursday a thief reportedly stole $242 worth of riding equipment from a tack shed behind the home of John K. Gamblin, 17972 Via Ranchero, Yorba Linda.

Tuesday, April 29

A $500 electric arc welder was reported missing Tuesday morning from the yard at Yorba Linda Equipment Rentals, 4791 Eureka, Yorba Linda.

Monday, April 28

Kathleen Marie Wainright, 36, of 4971 Van Buren, Yorba Linda, returned home from a meeting at 11:45 a.m. Monday to find the door of her home ajar. Then the door closed. Mrs. Wainright went to a neighbor's to call police.

The burglar however, got away, stealing $10 worth of men's jewelry and $10 that had been taken from a piggy bank.

About the same time, Shirley Ann Whitlock, 5262 Los Altos Drive, Yorba Linda, was discovering that someone had got into her home within the previous three hours and taken a camera and silver coins, for a total loss of $370.

Local Youths Recover From Accidents

Two local boys remained in the hospital this week following traffic mishaps.

William Barrett, 13, of 4741 Collins Drive, Yorba Linda, regained consciousness last week after falling from his horse onto a moving vehicle the previous Thursday. He was reported Monday to be awake and improving at St. Jude Hospital, Fullerton, although it was still uncertain when he would be released.

Barrett was taken to Placentia Linda Hospital shortly after 5:30 p.m. Thursday, April 24. Reportedly a horse he had been riding on Rose Drive north of Loie had lurched in front of a car, throwing him on top of the vehicle. He then apparently rolled along the top of the car and fell off the rear, striking his head on the pavement.

The driver of the car, Kenneth Kauster, 47, of 3552 Rose Drive, Yorba Linda, was not held.

Richard Allen Cox, 10, of 1437 Prospect, #3, Placentia, was still unconscious Monday after receiving head injuries and a broken ankle last Thursday. He had been taken to Placentia Linda Hospital shortly before 6 p.m., having reportedly been hit by a truck when he ran into the street in front of his home after a ball.

The truck driver, Michael Bell, 25, of Anaheim was not held.

Machado To Host Seminar

Mario Machado, veteran KNXT reporter and host of the popular series "MEDIX", will be moderator of the Family Health Care Seminar sponsored by Placentia-Linda Community Hospital, 1301 No. Rose Drive, Placentia.

Born in Shanghai, he received his early education in a British public school there. After World War II, he attended St. John's Military Academy in Los Angeles, later returned to the Orient to study at St. Francis Xavier's College. He was graduated from the University of Washington where he earned a degree in business administration. He speaks Portuguese and two Chinese dialects.

Before entering the broadcasting field, Machado was with IBM for five years and later became controller for another large company. He has experience as a business consultant, sales director and an advertising and promotion director.

Machado joined KNXT (CBS) in 1968 as a consumer affairs reporter and has since been involved in virtually all aspects of on-air broadcasting at Channel 2 including news anchorman.

More Local Merchants Tell 1975 Sales Gains

Sales increases during these hard times? Continued probing by the Chamber of Commerce brings to the surface some more 'bright lights' in the Yorba Linda retail sales picture for 1975 in comparison with 1974!

"It is hoped, commented Elton Patridge, Chamber President, and Executive Manager Bill OpDyke, "that all the good news published in last week's "STAR" plus that which appears below has a definite connection with increased shopping by Yorba Lindans in their own home town." For five weeks now, The "STAR" and the Chamber jointly have been bending every effort to encourage the people of Yorba Linda to patronize their local stores, - "to save at least 3% on purchases; to save time, save gas, save wear-and-tear on vehicles; and bring more sales tax money into the City." Hundreds of local residents have reported certain satisfaction from saving time and money... and fuel, this way. The campaign ends May 31 as far as the 3% discount is concerned, but the new shopping habit will, if carried on, do wonders for the whole Yorba Linda economy. 1975 sales of U-Lika Cleaners have been hiked in volume 25% over the first quarter of '74, reports Warren Clark. Wagon Masters' Danny and Harold Weinberg report that their total business is on par with last year. Doris Baker and Dorothy Taber of Dee Dee's Duds herald another "no-loss-over-last-year" report.

Wayne Peterson of Carpets by Wayne puts another interesting thermometer on the economic climate in Yorba Linda by reporting that, while January and February were down, - March and April were on par with '74; also that the coming months, from May forward, look even better due to opening of many new homes in town. Carter Carothers of Arrow Hardware reports they are down 3.02% from last year's first quarter, due to unseasonable weather.

Bill Allen of Allen Office Equipment on Main Street tells of a "no loss" posting this year over last -- which is a significant reflection on Yorba Linda's business action. James Wohletz of Hair Fashions by Rose says there has been no letup whatsoever in the hair-do business; in fact, "our total business is well ahead of last year!" Taking a look at the good food business, we find a report from Tony Frisco of Frisco's Gourmet Market and Delicatessen that they are enjoying a better business than last year. Going from food to bicycles, word from Karl Bopp of Yorba Linda Cyclery records "all business better the first quarter of '75 over the same period last year."

"Doubtless there are numerous other Yorba Linda retail stores holding their own, or better, this year over last, but Chamber time for this local survey was so limited that all returns are surely not in," explained OpDyke.

"The key to a hoped-for continuous era of prosperity for Yorba Linda is wrapped up in an ever-increasing public patronage of our local stores.

to reject any or all bids, or to make award to the lowest responsible bidder and reject all other bids. Bids will be compared on the basis of the Engineer's estimate of the quantities of the several items of work as shown on the Bid Sheets. Only such plans, specifications, and times of work as are appropriate shall apply to the work bid. Bids may be awarded for Item 1 or Item 2 or both. Bids may be submitted for only Item 1 or Item 2.

A-6 SITE CONDITIONS: Each bidder shall carefully examine the drawings, read the specifications and the forms of other contract documents, and shall visit the site of the proposed work to fully inform himself as to all existing conditions and limitations that may affect the execution of the work under the contract, and he shall include in the prices bid the cost of all incidentals and appurtenances. The failure or omission of any bidder to receive or examine any form, instrument, addendum, or other document, or his failure to visit and acquaint himself with conditions at the construction site, shall in no respect relieve him from any obligation imposed by his bid or by the contract. The submission of a bid shall be taken as prima facie evidence of compliance with all instructions contained herein.

A-7 CERTIFIED CHECK AND BONDS: Each bid must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check, or by a corporate surety bond on the form furnished by the owner, as a guarantee that the bidder will, if an award is made to him in accordance with the terms of his bid, promptly secure workmen's compensation insurance and liability insurance, execute a contract in the required form, and furnish satisfactory bonds for the faithful performance of the contract and for the payment of claims of materialmen and laborers thereunder. Said check or bidder's bond shall be in an amount not less than 10 percent of the amount of the bid. The Faithful Performance Bond shall be not less than 100 percent of the total amount of the bid price named in the contract. The Payment Bond shall be not less than 50 per cent of the total amount of the bid price named in the contract. The Owner reserves the right to reject any bond if, in the opinion of the Engineer, the Surety's acknowledgment is not in the form included in the contract documents or in another form substantially as prescribed by law.

A-8 FEDERAL RATES: Notice is hereby given that Federal Funds will be used to construct this project and that the Davis-Bacon Act will apply. A copy of the Current Federal Wage Rates are included in these bid documents.

A-9 PREVAILING RATES OF WAGES: In accordance with the provisions of Section 1770 of the California Labor Code, the Owner has ascertained and determined the general prevailing rates of wages, and the general prevailing rates of wages for holidays and overtime work, in the locality in which the work is to be performed, to be paid during the period of construction, and it shall be mandatory upon the Contractor to whom the contract is awarded and upon any subcontractor under him to pay not less than said specified rates to all workmen employed by them in the execution of the contract.

By Jack Scarpa

The tiny country of Portugal recently showed the world what it thought of the right to vote. After nearly a half century of Fascist dictatorship, 96% of the population dressed up in their finest and went to the polls in a gay, fiesta-like mood.

The happy voters said, "No thanks" to a Communist regime, and endorsed a moderate government. The election was more symbolic than anything else, since a military junta still has the power to dictate the structure of the constitution and even name the President. Nevertheless, the emphatic voice of nearly nine million people cannot be ignored.

Another Election

Can you imagine what would happen in Placentia, Yorba Linda, and Anaheim if 96% of us voters turned out to cast our votes in the upcoming May 27 school bond election. We would make the news too, but more importantly, we would by our actions proclaim our respect of the ballot box and teach our children that same respect.

On election day, think of the tiny country of Portugal and make it to your precinct to vote. If you don't have a way to get there, call me and I'll drive or arrange transportation for you.

This election will not be symbolic. It will mean concrete results of new classrooms and schools for our kids--if you vote yes. Your yes vote may even help the staggering unemployment rate.

Psychologists tell us when we do something constructive we should share that action with our children. It reinforces their self-image and effectively makes them part of the group. So, when you vote on May 27, tell your youngsters you are voting for new schools for them, and then do it. It will make you and your children feel great!

Emerson Said

"The secret of education lies in respecting the pupil."

Our Candidate

A beautiful young lady has solved the no-candidate problem that our office was facing in the Miss Placentia Pageant. Her name is Lisa Jean Gerber, she's a student at El Dorado High School, and now is the Herbert Hawkins Realtors' candidate in the Miss Placentia contest. Like the guy on the television commercial says about his wife, we also say about our Lisa, "She's our candidate and we're proud of her!" And from the way she looks, Lisa has been taking good care of herself too. Welcome, Lisa!

Our office is just across the street from the Chamber of Commerce, so we see all the lovely young women coming and going as they apply to be in the Pageant. This location is sometimes a definite advantage. All the candidates face tough competition. It's a good thing I am not a judge; it would be the first pageant in history with all winners.

The colorful affair will be held at Valencia High School on May 24, at 7:30 p.m. We have some free tickets for our clients and customers, so stop in and pick yours up.

Herbie's Best Buy

Big 4 bedroom, family kitchen and two bath home just three years young with central air conditioning and electronic air filter. Immaculate and waiting for you. Only $47,750. Call Doug Prosch at 524-8120.

NO PROPERTY TOO BIG OR TOO SMALL! HERBERT HAWKINS SELLS THEM ALL!

HARD AT WORK--Glenview's Wynn Freidenburg and Jamie Royce [right] apply glue and wrapping paper designs to recycled margarine tubs to make attractive containers for Mother's Day giving. They are 3rd grade students of Mrs. Whitmire.

Summer Registration

Registration for summer school in the Placentia Unified School District is underway, and all enrollment forms should be returned by Thursday, May 15.

Parents who want to enroll their children in the June 30-July 25 elementary summer school session or the June 16-July 25 session for junior and senior high students should complete and return the registration form immediately.

Forms for elementary summer classes will be sent home with students and should be returned to local schools. Additional enrollment forms are available at all schools, according to Dr. Marvin Stewart, director in charge of summer school. Students should register for the grades they will be in when school starts in September.

Registration forms and directions have been mailed to junior and senior high students outlining course offerings at all district secondary schools.

Classes will be held at all of the 14 elementary, three junior and three senior high schools that register enough students to support summer school, Stewart said.

During the summer, the entire school district is considered as a single attendance area, so students may attend any school which is most convenient or which offers the desired courses, he added. Bus transportation will not be provided.

Most elementary classes are scheduled in four one-hour curricular blocks and will include subjects in basic skills and enrichment, ranging from reading to horseback riding at one school.

Secondary students may use summer classes for their regular course of study, to make up deficiencies or to explore areas of special interest, Stewart said.

Further information about summer school may be obtained from any school in the Placentia Unified School District.

HORSE TALES

By Joan Johnson

I got so carried away last week that I ran out of space, so this week I'll finish up the list of camping areas.

Since we covered the one day riders last week, we now come to those hardy souls who enjoy camping out (sorry, no motels are allowed on "horse vacations") for a weekend, or, even for a week or two (if you're that lucky!). All of the following equestrian camping areas are equipped with water, tie rails, restrooms, and some even have hot showers and individual corrals. McCall's Park, up near Idyllwild, is a real nice spot. Camp Bandido, located in the Angeles National Forest, is another good one. Both of these campgrounds have corrals. Rancho California offers some beautiful riding, but their camping fees have gotten a little out of sight. Tenaja Ranger Station, out of Murrieta, is nice if you don't mind sharing the camp with motorcycles. Cuyamaca Rancho, in the Cleveland National Forest near Julian, is one of the greatest spots around here, but reservations are pretty hard to come by. You have to go to a Ticketron to obtain them. Double Butte Park in Winchester is well worth the trip, also. If you have at least a week to spend with your horse, try John's Horse Camp up near Kernville. That part of the country offers some beautiful riding.

I'm sure there are many more trail riding spots available within a reasonable driving distance. The ones I have listed are the ones I've been to. If anyone needs directions on how to get to any of these camps, let me know, in care of the Yorba Linda Star.

Ever wonder what to do when your horse gets a nail stuck in his foot? Pull it out, right? Right, but before you do, be sure to have a bottle of seven percent iodine, hydrogen peroxide, or any liquid antiseptic handy. As soon as you pull out the nail, immediately pour the antiseptic into the nail hole. Those small puncture wounds close up so fast that they're impossible to see after a short time. As an added precaution, give the horse a tetanus anti-toxin injection within twenty-four hours. Your troubles should now be over, but just to make extra sure, I always spend at least two weeks worrying about it. This always does the trick!!

Mrs. Clifton Retains Club Golf Championship

Rosemary Clifton shot a spectacular 331 in four rounds of golf at the Yorba Linda Country Club to hold on to the Club Championship again in 1975. Not since 1962 has there been scores of 87, 82, 77 and 85 that she put together to retain the coveted title.

Ann Carnahan came in second, six strokes behind Rosemary in the final match Tuesday, April 29.

Third was Mary Lou Douglas who shot 349 and Kay Hart took the honor of low net with a score of 307.

First Flight winners were: low gross, Carol

Thompson; second low gross, Virginia Wrigley and low net winner was Ethel Silverstein.

Second Flight low gross went to Darlene Adams with Maryann Sunderman runner up and Silvia Black took low net.

Third Flight low gross winner was Ruth Bauchiero, second low gross was Gennie Morgan and Carol Young took low net.

Champagne punch and hot hors-d'oeuvres were served after golf and gold medallions were presented to the winners by prize chairman, A.T. McNamara.
